Column Bench

Designed and Manufactured in Brooklyn, NY by Evan Z. Crane

DESCRIPTION

The Column Bench is shown in white oak with lacquered steel components. The "Column" series was inspired by the structural columns of New York City's industrial factory spaces. The dimensions are customizable to fit any space, even a child's room. The only part of the Column Bench that is fixed is the overall design of the leg structure. The proportions are infinitely adjustable to fit any space. Alternate wood species are available as well as outdoor versions.
