Six Legs Bench

Designed and Manufactured in Brooklyn, NY by Evan Z. Crane

DESCRIPTION

The Six legs Bench has gone through many variations over the years, inspired by a piece of medieval furniture in the collection of the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum. It was a simple piece with no adornment that gained tremendous personality with the addition of two extra legs. It appeared to have the life to walk out of the room on its own. This is a concept that Evan Z Crane strives to capture in every piece. Using the overall design as a framework the bench is completely customizable, including species of wood, upholstery, and Lacquer color.
